Dear Reader,

Are you ready to get started on your journey to becoming a published writer? Yes? Then let's get started!

All too often a budding writer will rush to get that important manuscript finished and sent off to a publisher, expecting it to be accepted and published right away.

Sadly, the experience is usually less than positive and the manuscript is returned after months of anxious waiting with a big fat rejection. After some months or even years the writer gradually loses all his or her enthusiasm and ends up with drawers stuffed full of old writing – and then turns to another hobby to satisfy them.

Another scenario that occurs frequently is that they find someone presenting himself as a self-proclaimed “expert” who promises them publication – but first they must pay to have the manuscript professionally edited. And after they have paid they never hear any more about it. Yes, they have been scammed.

Before you know it you have connected the experience of writing with the scam and you let the whole writing thing fade into oblivion, never willing to try it again.

It doesn't have to be like that. You can learn the basics of how to get published in many different ways and take it to whatever destination you desire. You can do it with your own copy of “See Your Name in Print: How to Get Published.”
