You are to be executed at dawn. Your only company is the prison chaplain, the one person allowed to be with you. No one has been notified of your impending execution. Every sound is magnified, every footstep outside of your cell rings loudly. A single lightbulb provides the only light. What would you think about and what would you say to Chaplain Poelchau? Can you imagine being the last person to attempt some degree of comfort and reassurance for over 1,000 condemned men and women?

In addition to his dedication to the people who could not be saved, Harald Poelchau assisted Jews trying to avoid certain death. He was so resourceful that he became known in underground Berlin as Dr. Tegel, Miracle Worker of Berlin. Read the book. You will be intrigued and amazed by this true story.
